Social Networking Code of Conduct

Lews Castle College asks for your help in creating a safe and inspiring online community.

The College welcomes your contributions to College pages on Facebook, or Twitter accounts which are used for educational purposes. The College adheres to Facebook’s Statement of Rights and Responsibilities (www.facebook.co./terms.php), and asks its Facebook users to do the same.

With all social networking sites, please do not post unauthorised commercial solicitations such as spam; content that is hateful, violent, threatening, bullying or pornographic; or anything unlawful, discriminatory or malicious on Lews Castle College’s Facebook Pages. Be aware that your entries may be seen by unintended viewers, including staff and future employers. Assume that any information you post may at some point be the basis for the impression others have of you.

Lews Castle College reserves the right to remove content deemed inappropriate or that otherwise violate Facebook’s Statement of Rights and Responsibilities and other providers. Breaches of this code may result in you facing disciplinary action.
